Nomination Form

SECTION A (FOR PUBLIC PROFILE)

A.5 Contribution to the Committee and the SFA community

Being elected to the SFA Executive Committee comes with significant responsibilities.

As an official SFA representative, you will be given the opportunity to represent SFA in various official events and engagements. You are expected to contribute proactively towards the setting of SFA's strategy and support the secretariat in executing the work plan.

ExCo members will be roped into smaller working groups from time to time to contribute to the different SFA initiatives and provide oversight on certain projects.

ExCo members will also be expected to meet up every fortnightly with the senior team of the secretariat to review and discuss SFA's progress.

Extra fiduciary duties will be assigned to office bearers.

Please describe how you envisage that you will contribute to the Committee and the level of commitment (e.g., time and areas of focus) you expect to provide commensurate with your skillset and reasons given in your Personal Statement above, and anything else that you think the Committee and the SFA should be focused on in the next 2 years (please keep your response to 200-250 words):

Chye Kit brings along a solid 6 years experience as Secretary of SFA and Chair of RegTech Sub-Committee. He has worked collaboratively with 3 different ExcOs teams between 2019 and 2024 within which the Regtech Sub-Comm has also undergone significant changes in terms of its membership composition. He has successfully led a number of activities over the years including RegTech ecosystem map, RegTech Pitchbook, RegTalk Series and Business Matching Speed-dating event. Bringing some of these concepts and initiatives across the entire SFA and its communities of sub-committees will create a more consistent and efficient outcome for SFA.

In the next 2 years, Chye Kit believes that it is important for SFA to bring value to its members and continue to assist the smaller players of the ecosystem with opportunities as ultimately the success of the FinTech ecosystem should not be dependent of a small number of larger players but a large number of small players. Fostering business and talent growth are 2 key areas Chye Kit would like to focus on. This will ensure that the growth of the ecosystem is more organic and sustainable as well as ensuring talent is nurtured and retained within Singapore for the greater benefit of Singapore's growth and positioning internationally.
