A.4 Personal Statement

I strongly believe Community Building and Partnerships are two key superpowers that Singapore has. SFA is the foundation of SG fintech ecosystem and I believe I have the acumen and skillset to further drive its mission forward to marking Singapore a vibrant fintech hub, globally.

I believe by being part of the ExCo, I can contribute towards:

- Fostering connections

Support in curating meaningful connections and supporting with innovation-led dialogues within the ecosystem; a trait I picked up from my experiences especially in supporting Fintech hubs such as Mumbai, Qatar, Singapore as well as leading partnerships at Singlife

- Value creation

I believe my experience of having led high stake engagements will be a valuable addition to the team. It is important to have initiatives with tangible outcomes and clear KPIs and accountability to drive true value.

- Community engagement

Our think tank thrives on the power of community, driving recognition and shining the spotlight on one and all. It is equally important to also pave the way forward for leaders of tomorrow by designing and launching diverse, inclusive and purpose driven mandates. During my WIF stint, we have clearly laid down three key focus areas and actively work towards enabling them as a community.

- Market Access

Strengthening local & global market access for Singapore fintechs and creating a corridor which drives value both ways.

I believe these values and experience will help me further the SFA mission and vision, and I hope to have the opportunity to do my part in it.

SECTION B (CONFIDENTIAL)

A.5 Contribution to the Committee and the SFA community

Being elected to the SFA Executive Committee comes with significant responsibilities.

As an official SFA representative, you will be given the opportunity to represent SFA in various official events and engagements. You are expected to contribute proactively towards the setting of SFA's strategy and support the secretariat in executing the work plan.

ExCo members will be roped into smaller working groups from time to time to contribute to the different SFA initiatives and provide oversight on certain projects.

ExCo members will also be expected to meet up every fortnightly with the senior team of the secretariat to review and discuss SFA's progress.

Extra fiduciary duties will be assigned to office bearers.

Please describe how you envisage that you will contribute to the Committee and the level of commitment (e.g., time and areas of focus) you expect to provide commensurate with your skillset and reasons given in your Personal Statement above, and anything else that you think the Committee and the SFA should be focused on in the next 2 years (please keep your response to 200-250 words):

I, along with the #OurSFA2025 team, am committed to support SFA in its vision to make Singapore a diverse, vibrant and inclusive fintech community.

We have identified four key pillars which encapsulate our vision to mark the next chapter of SFA:

- Partnerships: Strengthening relationships between members, investors, financial institutions and partners locally, and globally.
- Innovation: Engaging MAS, GFTN, regulators, and industry leaders to drive responsible and purpose-led and sustainable innovation
- Internationalization: Driving SFA's reach and market access through strategic collaborations, ecosystem building and business development activities
- Talent Development: Focus on capability development and nurturing enabled via partnership with relevant academia and ecosystem partners
